Case - Timothy N. Pfeiffer,
Subject - Homicide, New Brunswick, N.J.,
Operative - 312.

312 / General

November 12, 1922. Continuing on the above matter, Operative left his room at about 8 a.m. and proceeded about Town.

At about 10.20 a.m. Operative joined young Hayes, and proceeded with him to St. Peter's Church for the 10.30 Mass.

While in Hayes's company, Hayes remarked to Operative, "The other fellow tried to make me the goat and get the thousand dollars, well he didn't get very deep into the Case.

Upon coming from St. Peter's Church, and upon leaving the company of Hayes, Operative met Mr. Kirby and entered in conversation with him. Mr. Kirby told Operative that a lot of people did not like him because he had arrested young Hayes. Mr. Kirby told Operative that Schneider had pulled that trick thinking he would get the reward.

Upon leaving Mr. Kirby, Operative proceeded out on Easton Avenue to the Phillips Farm.

While at the Phillips Farm, Operative observed the little old short man that lives in the house where the windmill is, telling everybody what he knew about the Case, and how he was one of the first there when they took the bodies away. The little old man stated that he heard the shots, but said that he thinks the two were shot while in the lane in the automobile. One of his listeners, a woman, asked the old man what he thought about Mrs. Gibson's story. The little old man laughed and said, "I guess she wants some money, I don't believe her."

Operative while about the Phillips Farm observed a woman making a number of inquiries from persons about the place. Operative overheard a woman to remark, that the woman who was asking the questions was a detective from Newark, and that she had a sister who was a lawyer and handled a number of City cases.
